Item 4 – Advisory Business

PAG is owned by three individual Members, Matthew Stohlman, Matthew Smith and Joshua B. Angell (through The Barrons Group, LLC). PAG has been providing advisory services since 2006.

As of December 31, 2024, PAG managed $336,319,781 on a discretionary basis and $0 on a nondiscretionary basis.

Investment Management Services

PAG manages investment portfolios for individuals, qualified retirement plans, corporations and small businesses. PAG will work with the client to determine the client's investment objectives and investor risk profile and will design a written investment policy statement. PAG uses investment and portfolio allocation software to evaluate alternative portfolio designs. PAG evaluates the client's existing investments with respect to the client's investment policy statement. PAG works with new clients to develop a plan to transition from the client's existing portfolio to the portfolio recommended by PAG. PAG will then continuously monitor the client's portfolio holdings and the overall asset allocation strategy and hold regular review meetings with the client regarding the account as necessary.

PAG will typically create a portfolio of no-load mutual funds, ETFs and/or closed-end interval funds and may use model portfolios if the models match the client's investment policy. PAG will allocate the client's assets among various investments taking into consideration the overall management style selected by the client. Client portfolios may also include some individual equity securities in situations where disposition of these securities would present an overriding tax implication or the client specifically requests they be retained for a personal reason. These situations will be specifically identified in the client's Investment Policy Statement (IPS).

PAG manages portfolios on a discretionary or nondiscretionary basis. A client may impose any reasonable restrictions on PAG's discretionary authority, including restrictions on the types of securities in which PAG may invest client's assets and on specific securities, which the client may believe to be appropriate.

PAG may also recommend fixed income portfolios to advisory clients, which consist of managed accounts of individual bonds. PAG will request discretionary authority from advisory clients to manage fixed income portfolios, including the discretion to retain a third party fixed income manager. PAG will prepare a separate Fixed Income Investment Policy Statement for any client qualifying for separate fixed income portfolio services.

Pursuant to its discretionary authority, PAG will retain a fixed income securities manager. The fixed income securities manager will be provided with the discretionary authority to invest client assets in fixed income securities consistent with the client's Fixed Income Investment Policy Statement. The manager will also monitor the account for changes in credit ratings, security call provisions, and tax loss harvesting opportunities (to the extent that the manager is provided with cost basis information). The manager will obtain PAG's consent prior to the sale of any client securities.

On an ongoing basis, PAG will answer clients' inquiries regarding their accounts and review periodically with clients the performance of their accounts. PAG will periodically, and at least annually, review client's investment policy, risk profile and discuss the re-balancing of each client's accounts to the extent appropriate. PAG will provide to investment manager any updated client financial information or account restrictions necessary for investment manager to provide sub-advisory services.

In addition to managing the client's investment portfolio, PAG may consult with clients on various financial areas including income and estate tax planning, business sale structures, college financial planning, retirement planning, insurance analysis, personal cash flow analysis, establishment and design of retirement plans and trust designs, among other things.

Employee Benefit Retirement Plan Services

PAG also provides advisory services to participant-directed employee retirement benefit plans. PAG will analyze the plan's current investment platform, and assist the plan in creating an investment policy statement defining the types of investments to be offered and the restrictions that may be imposed. PAG will recommend investment options to achieve the plan's objectives, provide participant education meetings, and monitor the performance of the plan's investment vehicles.

PAG will recommend changes in the plan's investment vehicles as may be appropriate from time to time. PAG generally will review the plan's investment vehicles and investment policy as necessary.

Securities Based Lending Program

Clients of PAG who custody their assets with Fidelity may avail themselves of a digital lending solution sponsored by Goldman Sachs Private Bank ("GS Bank"). This program allows clients to utilize their taxable portfolio accounts as collateral for a revolving line of credit to provide a liquidity solution to clients. The assets in the pledged account can still earn interest or dividends, and in most cases the client can determine whether to maintain the income in the pledged account or distribute it. There may be times when GS Bank freezes activity in the account which would prevent interest and dividend distributions, e.g., if the account is in a maintenance call. Clients are still charged their quarterly asset-based fee by PAG. PAG does not receive any other compensation from client's participation in this program.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

In certain circumstances, all fees, account minimums and their applications to family circumstances may be negotiable.

PAG has contracted with Focus Partners Advisor Solutions for services including trade processing, collection of management fees, record maintenance, report preparation, marketing assistance, and research. PAG has also contracted with Focus Partners Advisor Solutions for sub-advisory services with respect to clients' fixed income accounts. PAG pays a fee for Focus Partners Advisor Solutions services based on management fees paid to PAG on accounts that use Focus Partners Advisor Solutions. The fee paid by PAG to Focus Partners Advisor Solutions consists of a portion of the fee paid by clients to PAG and varies based on the total client assets participating in Focus Partners Advisor Solutions through PAG. These fees are not separately charged to advisory clients.

The specific manner in which fees are charged by PAG is established in a client's written agreement with PAG. Investment Management and Employee Benefit Plan clients will be invoiced in advance at the beginning of each calendar quarter based upon the value (market value based on independent third party sources or fair market value in the absence of market value; client account balances on which PAG calculates fees may vary from account custodial statements based on independent valuations and other accounting variances, including mechanisms for including accrued interest in account statements) of the client's account at the end of the previous quarter. New accounts are charged a prorated fee for the remainder of the quarter in which the account is incepted (date of first trade, and typically a later date).

PAG will request authority from the client to receive quarterly payments directly from the client's account held by an independent custodian. Clients may provide written limited authorization to PAG or its designated service provider, Focus Partners Advisor Solutions, to withdraw fees from the account. Clients will receive custodial statements showing the advisory fees debited from their account(s). Certain third-party administrators will calculate and debit PAG's fee and remit such fee to PAG.

A client agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of 30 days written notice. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded.

PAG's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which shall be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. All fees paid to PAG for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to PAG's fee, and PAG shall not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Advisory Fees

Investment Management Services:

Our fees for investment management services are set forth in our investment advisory agreement with the client. Our fees are generally based on a percentage of the client's assets under management with PAG, generally as much as 1.25%; are negotiable, will vary from client to client, and are based on several factors, such as the client's assets under PAG's management, scope of services to be provided, the degree of expertise and time required, the complexity of the account, the origins of the client relationship, and the potential future revenues from the client. Advisory fees shall apply to cash balances, accrued interest, income, accrued dividends, and, if any, margin balances unless negotiated or agreed upon otherwise. The specific fee schedule charged by PAG is established in a client's written advisory agreement. Clients engaging PAG for Investment Management Services are typically subject to a minimum fee of $5,000 although this minimum can be waived.

For investment advice provided on held-away accounts and assets as mentioned above in Item 4, PAG's fee is deducted from a brokerage account under PAG's management or paid directly by the client on a quarterly basis. Fees are based on the value of these held-away accounts and assets; such valuations are generally provided to PAG on a quarterly basis as valued by the custodian or financial institution. Fees will typically be based on the client's full portfolio value, including the held-away account. The specific fee schedule charged by PAG is established in a client's written agreement with PAG.

If an independent third-party adviser is utilized for separate account management, the adviser can charge its own management fee. All fees and expenses charged by a separate account manager are separate and distinct from PAG's management fee and are withdrawn from the client's account by the separate account manager.

Employee Benefit Retirement Plan Services:

The annual fee for PAG's plan services is charged on a quarterly basis and is based on a percentage of the assets within the plan and typically range from 0.20% to 1.00% per year. The annual fee will be based upon a number of factors including the size of the plan, the number of participants, the number of locations as well as the method of employee education and the services required. Fees will typically be tiered, and the fee is calculated by applying a different fee rate to each corresponding range of the plan's account balance.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

PAG does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client). All fees are calculated as described above and are not charged on the basis of income or capital gains or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of an advisory client.

Item 7 – Types of Clients

PAG manages investment portfolios for individuals, qualified retirement plans, trusts, corporations and small businesses.

PAG generally requires a minimum of $1,000,000 of assets under management for Investment Management Services. This account size may be negotiable under certain circumstances.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Methods of Analysis and Investment Strategy

PAG's services are based on long-term investment strategies incorporating the principles of Modern Portfolio Theory. PAG's investment approach is firmly rooted in the belief that markets are "efficient" over periods of time and that investors' long-term returns are determined principally by asset allocation decisions, rather than market timing or stock picking. PAG recommends diversified portfolios, principally through the use of passively managed, asset class mutual funds and/or ETFs. PAG selects or recommends to clients portfolios of securities, principally broadly-traded open end mutual funds, ETFs, or conservative fixed income securities to implement this investment strategy.

Although all investments involve risk, PAG's investment advice seeks to limit risk through broad diversification among asset classes and, as appropriate for particular clients the investment directly in conservative fixed income securities to represent the fixed income class. PAG's investment philosophy is designed for investors who desire a buy and hold strategy. Frequent trading of securities increases brokerage and other transaction costs that PAG's strategy seeks to minimize.

In the implementation of investment plans, PAG therefore primarily uses mutual funds, ETFs and, as appropriate, portfolios of conservative fixed income securities. PAG may also utilize closed-end interval funds to represent a market sector

Clients may hold or retain other types of assets as well, and PAG may offer advice regarding those various assets as part of its services. Advice regarding such assets will generally not involve asset management services but may help to more generally assist the client.

PAG's strategies do not utilize securities that we believe would be classified as having any unusual risks, and we do not recommend frequent trading, which can increase brokerage and other costs and taxes.

PAG receives supporting research from Focus Partners Advisor Solutions and from other consultants, including economists affiliated with Dimensional Fund Advisors ("DFA"). PAG utilizes DFA mutual funds and ETFs in client portfolios. DFA mutual funds and ETFs follow a passive asset class investment philosophy with low holdings turnover. DFA provides historical market analysis, risk/return analysis, and continuing education to PAG.

Analysis of a Client's Financial Situation

In the development of investment plans for clients, including the recommendation of an appropriate asset allocation, PAG relies on an analysis of the client's financial objectives, current and estimated future resources, and tolerance for risk. To derive a recommended asset allocation, PAG may use a Monte Carlo simulation, a standard statistical approach for dealing with uncertainty. As with any other methods used to make projections into the future, there are several risks associated with this method, which may result in the client not being able to achieve their financial goals. They include:

- The risk that expected future cash flows will not match those used in the analysis
- The risk that future rates of return will fall short of the estimates used in the simulation
- The risk that inflation will exceed the estimates used in the simulation
- For taxable clients, the risk that tax rates will be higher than was assumed in the analysis

Risk of Loss

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

All investments present the risk of loss of principal – the risk that the value of securities (mutual funds, ETFs and individual bonds), when sold or otherwise disposed of, may be less than the price paid for the securities. Even when the value of the securities when sold is greater than the price paid, there is the risk that the appreciation will be less than inflation. In other words, the purchasing power of the proceeds may be less than the purchasing power of the original investment.

The mutual funds and ETFs utilized by PAG may include funds invested in domestic and international equities, including real estate investment trusts (REITs), corporate and government fixed income securities and commodities. Equity securities may include large capitalization, medium capitalization and small capitalization stocks. Mutual funds and ETF shares invested in fixed income securities are subject to the same interest rate, inflation and credit risks associated with the underlying bond holdings.

Among the riskiest mutual funds and ETFs used in PAG's investment strategies funds are the U.S. and International small capitalization and small capitalization value funds, emerging markets funds, and commodity futures funds. Conservative fixed income securities have lower risk of loss of principal, but most bonds (with the exception of Treasury Inflation Protected Securities, or TIPS) present the risk of loss of purchasing power through lower expected return. This risk is greatest for longer-term bonds.

Certain funds utilized by PAG may contain international securities. Investing outside the United States involves additional risks, such as currency fluctuations, periods of illiquidity and price volatility. These risks may be greater with investments in developing countries.

More information about the risks of any particular market sector can be reviewed in representative mutual fund prospectuses managing assets within each applicable sector.

Interval Fund Risk

An interval fund is a type of closed-end fund containing shares that do not trade on the secondary market. Instead, the fund periodically offers to buy back a percentage of outstanding shares at net asset value.

The rules for interval funds, along with the types of assets held, make this investment largely illiquid compared with other funds. The primary reasons for investors to consider investing in interval funds PAG may utilize include, but are not limited to, gaining exposure to certain risk categories that provide diversified sources of expected returns, part of which may be in the form of illiquidity premiums. Access to the intended risk and expected return characteristics may not otherwise be available in more liquid, traditional investment vehicles.

Where appropriate, PAG may utilize certain interval funds structured as non-diversified, closed-end management investment companies, registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. Investments in an interval fund involve additional risk, including lack of liquidity and restrictions on withdrawals. During any time periods outside of the specified repurchase offer window(s), investors will be unable to sell their shares of the interval fund. There is no assurance that an investor will be able to tender shares when or in the amount desired, and the fund may suspend or postpone purchases. Clients should carefully review the fund's prospectus to more fully understand the interval fund structure and the corresponding liquidity risks. Because these types of investments involve certain additional risk, these funds will only be utilized when consistent with a client's investment objectives, individual situation, suitability, tolerance for risk and liquidity needs. Investment should be avoided where an investor has a short-term investing horizon and/or cannot bear the loss of some or all of the investment.

The risk of loss described herein should not be considered to be an exhaustive list of all the risks which clients should consider.

More information about the risks of any particular market sector can be reviewed in representative mutual fund prospectuses managing assets within each applicable sector.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of PAG or the integrity of PAG's management. PAG has no information applicable to this Item.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Affiliated Accounting Firm

PAG is a registered investment adviser. However, Members and associated persons of PAG are also owners or employees in the accounting firm Smith, Stohlman, James & Gardere, P.A.

Smith, Stohlman, James & Gardere, P.A. (hereinafter "SSJG") may recommend PAG to accounting clients in need of advisory services. PAG may recommend SSJG to advisory clients in need of accounting services. Accounting services provided by SSJG are separate and distinct from the advisory services of PAG, and are provided for separate and typical compensation. No PAG client is obligated to use SSJG for any accounting services.

Focus Partners Advisor Solutions

As described above in Item 4, PAG may exercise discretionary authority provided by a client to select an independent third-party investment manager for the management of portfolios of individual fixed income securities. PAG selects Focus Partners Advisor Solutions for such fixed income management. PAG also contracts with Focus Partners Advisor Solutions for back-office services and assistance with portfolio modeling. PAG has a fiduciary duty to select qualified and appropriate managers in the client's best interest, and believes that Focus Partners Advisor Solutions effectively provides both the back-office services that assist with its overall investment advisory practice and fixed income portfolio management services. The management of PAG continuously makes this assessment. While PAG has a contract with Focus Partners Advisor Solutions governing a time period for back-office services, PAG has no such fixed commitment to the selection of Focus Partners Advisor Solutions for fixed income management services and may select another investment manager for clients upon reasonable notice to Focus Partners Advisor Solutions.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

PAG has adopted a Code of Ethics expressing the firm's commitment to ethical conduct. PAG's Code of Ethics describes the firm's fiduciary duties and responsibilities to clients and sets forth PAG's practice of supervising the personal securities transactions of employees with access to client information. Individuals associated with PAG may buy or sell securities for their personal accounts identical or different than those recommended to clients. It is the expressed policy of PAG that no person employed by the firm shall prefer his or her own interest to that of an advisory client or make personal investment decisions based on investment decisions of advisory clients.

To supervise compliance with its Code of Ethics, PAG requires that anyone associated with this advisory practice with access to advisory recommendations provide annual securities holding reports and quarterly transaction reports to the firm's principal. PAG also requires such access persons to receive approval from the Chief Compliance Officer prior to investing in any IPO's or private placements (limited offerings).

PAG's Code of Ethics further includes the firm's policy prohibiting the use of material non-public information and protecting the confidentiality of client information. PAG requires that all individuals must act in accordance with all applicable Federal and State regulations governing registered investment advisory practices. Any individual not in observance of the above may be subject to discipline.

PAG will provide a complete copy of its Code of Ethics to any client or prospective client upon request.

It is PAG's policy that the firm will not affect any principal or agency cross securities transactions for client accounts. PAG will also not cross trades between client accounts. Principal transactions are generally defined as transactions where an advisor, acting as principal for its own account or the account of an affiliated broker-dealer, buys from or sells any security to any advisory client. A principal transaction may also be deemed to have occurred if a security is crossed between an affiliated private fund and another client account. An agency cross transaction is defined as a transaction where a person acts as an investment advisor in relation to a transaction in which the investment advisor, or any person controlled by or under common control with the investment advisor, acts as broker for both the advisory client and for another person on the other side of the transaction. Agency cross transactions may arise where an advisor is dually registered as a broker-dealer or has an affiliated broker-dealer.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

PAG arranges for the execution of securities transactions with the assistance of Focus Partners Advisor Solutions. Through Focus Partners Advisor Solutions, PAG participates in Schwab Advisor Services (SAS) program offered to independent investment advisers by Charles Schwab & Company, Inc. ("Schwab") Member FINRA/SIPC, and the Fidelity Institutional Wealth Services (FIWS) program offered to independent investment advisors, sponsored by Fidelity Brokerage Services, LLC ("Fidelity"), member FINRA/SIPC. Schwab and Fidelity are unaffiliated SEC-registered broker dealers and FINRA member broker dealers.

Additionally, through Focus Partners Advisor Solutions, PAG has reduced firm-wide minimums to reach so that clients can invest in the Stone Ridge Securities LLC ("Stone Ridge") mutual funds and closed-end interval funds. Stone Ridge is an independent broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission and a member of FINRA.

Additionally, PAG offers a cash management aggregator system named Flourish Cash. Flourish Cash is a service offered by an unaffiliated third-party, Flourish Financial LLC. A Flourish Cash account is a brokerage account whereby the cash balance is swept from the brokerage account to deposit accounts at one or more third-party banks that have agreed to accept deposits from customers of Flourish Cash. Flourish Financial LLC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. Please refer to the applicable disclosures provided separately by Flourish Financial LLC on account opening.

The Schwab and Fidelity brokerage programs will generally be recommended to advisory clients for the execution of mutual fund and equity securities transactions. PAG regularly reviews these programs to ensure that its recommendations are consistent with its fiduciary duty. These trading platforms are essential to PAG's service arrangements and capabilities, and PAG may not accept clients who direct the use of other brokers. As part of these programs, PAG receives benefits that it would not receive if it did not offer investment advice (See the disclosure under Item 14 of this Brochure).

As PAG will not request the discretionary authority to determine the broker dealer to be used or the commission rates to be paid for mutual fund and equity securities transactions, clients must direct PAG as to the broker dealer to be used. In directing the use of a particular broker or dealer, it should be understood that PAG will not have authority to negotiate commissions among various brokers or obtain volume discounts, and best execution may not be achieved. Not all investment advisers require clients to direct the use of specific brokers.

PAG will not exercise authority to arrange client transactions in fixed income securities. Clients will provide this authority to a fixed income manager retained by PAG on client's behalf by designating the fixed income manager with trading authority over client's brokerage account. Clients will be provided with the Disclosure Brochure (Form ADV Part 2) of fixed income manager.

Schwab and FIWS do not generally charge clients a custody fee and are compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees for securities trades that are executed through the broker or that settle into the clients' accounts at the brokers. Trading client accounts through other brokers may result in fees (including mark-ups and mark-downs) being charged by the custodial broker and an additional broker. While PAG will not arrange transactions through other brokers, the authority of the fixed income portfolio manager includes the ability to trade client fixed income assets through other brokers.

PAG does not have any arrangements to compensate any broker dealer for client referrals.

PAG does not maintain any client trade error gains. PAG makes client whole with respect to any trade error losses incurred by client caused by PAG.

PAG generally does not aggregate any client transactions in mutual fund or other securities. Client accounts are individually reviewed and managed, and transaction costs are not saved by aggregating orders in almost all circumstances in which PAG arranges transactions. Focus

Partners Advisor Solutions in the management of fixed income portfolios, will aggregate certain transactions among client accounts that it manages, in which case PAG client's orders may be aggregated with an order for another client of Focus Partners Advisor Solutions who is not a PAG client. See Focus Partners Advisor Solutions 's Form ADV Part 2.

Employee Benefit Plan Services:

PAG does not arrange for the execution of securities transactions for plans as a part of this service. Transactions are executed directly through employee plan participation.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

Reviews:

Investment Management Services

Account assets are supervised continuously and formally reviewed quarterly by Joshua B. Angell, the Chief Investment Officer and Member of PAG. The review process contains each of the following elements:

- assessing client goals and objectives;
- evaluating the employed strategy(ies);
- monitoring the portfolio(s); and
- addressing the need to rebalance.

Additional account reviews may be triggered by any of the following events:

- a specific client request;
- a change in client goals and objectives;
- an imbalance in a portfolio asset allocation; and
- market/economic conditions.

For fixed income portfolios, certain account review responsibilities are delegated to a third party investment manager as described above in Item 4.

Employee Benefit Retirement Plan Services:

Plan assets are reviewed on a quarterly basis, and according to the standards and situations described above for investment management accounts.

Reports:

All clients will receive quarterly performance reports, prepared by Focus Partners Advisor Solutions and reviewed by PAG, that summarize the client's account and asset allocation. Clients will also receive at least quarterly statements from their account custodian, which will outline the client's current positions, and current market value.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Client Referrals

PAG will compensate, either directly or indirectly, any person (defined as a natural person or a company) for client referrals. Additionally, PAG will compensate both employees of PAG and employees of the affiliated accounting firm for referring clients to PAG. PAG is aware of the special considerations promulgated under Section 206(4)-1 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended and similar state regulations. As such, appropriate disclosure shall be made, all written instruments will be maintained by PAG and all applicable federal and/or state laws will be observed.

Other Compensation

As indicated under the disclosure for Item 12, Schwab and FIWS each respectively provide PAG with access to services, which are not available to retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis at no charge to them.

These services benefit PAG but may not benefit its clients' accounts. Many of the products and services assist PAG in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution (and allocation of aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts), provide research, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of PAG's fees from its clients' accounts, and assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of PAG's accounts. Recommended brokers also make available to PAG other services intended to help PAG manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, and marketing. PAG does not, however, enter into any commitments with the brokers for transaction levels in exchange for any services or products from brokers. While as a fiduciary, PAG endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, PAG's requirement that clients maintain their assets in accounts at Schwab or FIWS may be based in part on the benefit to PAG of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services and not solely on the nature, cost or quality of custody and brokerage services provided by the brokers, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

PAG also receives software from DFA, which PAG utilizes in forming assets allocation strategies and producing performance reports. DFA also provides continuing education for PAG personnel. These services are designed to assist PAG plan and design its services for business growth.

Item 15 – Custody

Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the broker dealer, bank or other qualified custodian that holds and maintains client's investment assets. PAG urges you to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements that we may provide to you. Our statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

PAG requests that it be provided with written authority to determine which securities and the amounts of securities that are bought or sold. For fixed income securities, this authority will include the discretion to retain a third party money manager for fixed income accounts. Any limitations on this discretionary authority shall be included in this written authority statement. Clients may change/amend these limitations as required. Such amendments shall be submitted in writing.

When selecting securities and determining amounts, PAG observes the investment policies, limitations and restrictions of the clients for which it advises. Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to PAG in writing.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

Proxy Disclosures: As a matter of firm policy and practice, PAG does not accept the authority to and does not vote proxies on behalf of advisory client. For any pension plan or other employee benefit plan governed by ERISA, the right and responsibility to vote proxies has been expressly reserved to the plan trustees or other plan fiduciary. Clients retain the responsibility for receiving and voting proxies for any and all securities maintained in client portfolios. Clients will receive applicable proxies directly from the issuer of securities held in clients' investment portfolios. PAG, however, may provide advice to clients regarding the clients' voting of proxies.

Class Actions, Bankruptcies and Other Legal Proceedings: Clients should note that PAG will neither advise nor act on behalf of the client in legal proceedings involving companies whose securities are held or previously were held in the client's account(s), including, but not limited to, the filing of "Proofs of Claim" in class action settlements. If desired, clients may direct PAG to transmit copies of class action notices to the client or a third party. Upon such direction, PAG will make commercially reasonable efforts to forward such notices in a timely manner.

Item 18 – Financial Information

Registered investment advisers are required to provide you with certain financial information or disclosures about PAG's financial condition. PAG has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, and has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding.

Additional Information about the CFA designation

CFA - Chartered Financial Analyst Minimum Qualifications

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. There are currently more than 138,000 CFA charterholders working in 134 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders—often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in over 30 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning. The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.
